

Authors' Profiles

Jan Guenther Braun is the author of the forthcoming novel, Somewhere Else, to be published by Arbeiter Ring Press. She makes her home in Winnipeg.

Daryl Climenhaga is Associate Professor of Global Studies at Providence Theological Seminary, Otterburne, MB.

Dora Dueck is a Winnipeg writer and editor.

Andrea Dyck's 2007 Master's thesis focused on how the relationships between Canadian Mennonite immigrants in Mexico and non-Mennonite outsiders affected the Mennonite community's perceptions of itself. She currently works for the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba.

David Elias, born and raised on the West Reserve in southern Manitoba, is the author of novels, short stories, and poetry. His most recent book is Sunday Afternoon; he has a novel forthcoming in the fall of 2008.

Aileen Friesen is a graduate student at the University of Alberta in Edmonton. Her research interests focus on religion and minority groups in Imperial Russia.

John J. Friesen is Professor Emeritus of History and Theology at Canadian Mennonite University, Winnipeg, MB. He is author of Building Communities, a history of Mennonites in Manitoba.

Hildi Froese Tiessen teaches English and Peace and Conflict Studies at Conrad Grebel University College, University of Waterloo. She has published widely on Mennonite/s writing.

M. J. Heisey is Associate Professor in American history and chair of the history department at State University of New York at Potsdam. She resides in DeKalb, New York. This brief article on Elsie Bechtel is part of larger work that aims at publishing her 1945 to 1948 diary and letters.

Karen M. Johnson-Weiner is the Chair of the Department of Anthropology and Associate Professor of Linguistic Anthropology at the State University of New York in Potsdam, NY.

Doreen Helen Klassen is Associate Professor of Folklore and Anthropology and serves as Chair of Social/Cultural Studies at Sir Wilfred Grenfell College, a campus of Memorial University of Newfoundland, in Corner Brook, NL. Her research focuses on material culture, oral narrative, and gestural communication.

Peter J. Klassen is Professor Emeritus of History at California State University, Fresno, CA.

Sarah Klassen is a Winnipeg writer. Her most recent publications are A Feast of Longing, short fiction, and A Curious Beatitude, poetry.

Peter Letkemann is an organist and historian living in Winnipeg. He is the author of the recently released biography The Ben Horch Story. Forthcoming books include a biography of Benjamin H. Unruh, and a history of Russian Mennonite Hymnody and Choral Music.

- Brenda Martin Hurst is pastor at Frazer Mennonite Church, Frazer, PA. She is author of a forthcoming book from Cascadia Press addressing Mennonite beliefs about sexuality from 1890 to 1930.
- Paul Martens is Assistant Professor of Religion at Baylor University, Waco, TX.
- Leonard Neufeldt's scholarly work has been published by the Cambridge, Oxford, and Princeton university presses, among others. He is also the author of a number of books of poetry, including one forthcoming late in 2008.
- Steven M. Nolt is the Chair of the History and Political Science Department and Professor of History at Goshen College, Goshen, IN.
- Tom Penner teaches in the English Department at the University of Winnipeg.
- Tracy Penny Light is Assistant Professor of Sexuality, Marriage, and Family Studies/History at St. Jerome's University, Waterloo, ON
- Lynette Sarah Plett is an independent scholar living in Toronto, Ontario. A third generation quilter, Lynette uses quilts and quilting (and other handwork) in her historical research. She completed her doctoral thesis, "Thinking Back Through Our Mothers: A Sampler Quilt of Kleine Gemeinde Mennonite Women and Country Homemakers" in 2006.
- T. D. Regehr is Professor Emeritus of History at the University of Saskatchewan, Saskatoon, SK. He currently resides in Calgary, AB and is adjunct professor of history at the University of Calgary, Alberta.
- Al Reimer is Professor Emeritus of English at the University of Winnipeg and Associate Editor of Journal of Mennonite Studies.
- Steven Reschly is the Chair of the Department of History and Associate Professor of History at Truman State University, Kirksville, MO.
- Roland Sawatzky is Senior Curator at the Mennonite Heritage Village in Steinbach MB and is sessional instructor of Anthropology and Archaeology at Canadian Mennonite University and University of Winnipeg. His research interests include Mennonite architecture, material culture and historical archaeology.
- Janice Schroeder is Assistant Professor of English at Carleton University in Ottawa; her research focuses on Victorian women's journalism and public speech.
- Sue Sorensen teaches English at Canadian Mennonite University, Winnipeg, and is the editor of the forthcoming book, West of Eden: New Approaches in Canadian Prairie Literature.
- Paul Tiessen is Professor of English and Film Studies at Wilfrid Laurier University and lives in Kitchener, Ontario. Along with Hildi Froese Tiessen, he is editor of After Green Gables: L.M. Montgomery's Letters to Ephraim Weber, 1916-1941 (University of Toronto Press, 2006). His current research is on literary modernism and mass media.

Erwin Warkentin is Associate Professor of German and Head of the Department of German and Russian at Memorial University of Newfoundland and resides in Torbay, Newfoundland. His research interests focus on intercultural communications with a specific focus on how German and Mennonite thought and culture interact with the societies to which they immigrate.

J. Denny Weaver is Emeritus professor of Religion at Bluffton University, Bluffton, OH.

Hans Werner is Assistant Professor of History at the University of Winnipeg and Executive Director of the D.F. Plett Historical Research Foundation. He is author of Imagined Homes: Soviet German Immigrants in Two Cities (2007) and Living Between Worlds: A History of Winkler (2006).

Christopher Wiebe has contributed literary journalism to such magazines as Canadian Forum and the Literary Review of Canada. He works at the Heritage Canada Foundation in Ottawa.

Joe Wiebe is a Vancouver novelist and freelance writer. He is seeking a publisher for his first novel, Mudville, and is working on his second, a Mennonite historical story. His short story, "Sunlight + Coloured Glass," appears in Half in the Sun: An Anthology of Mennonite Writing. To read more of his writing, go to www.joewiebe.com.

Lindsey Wiebe is a Winnipeg poet and news reporter for the Winnipeg Free Press

Nathan E. Yoder is Associate Professor of Church History at Eastern Mennonite Seminary at Harrisonburg, VA.