The front cover depicts a 20 July 1979 photograph found in the Winnipeg Tribune files by JMS board member Alf Redekopp. The original caption reads: "Winnipeg resident[s] rolled out the welcome mat when 53 Vietnamese refugees arrived in the city to begin a new life." The photographer is credited as, Wiley, presumably a surname. The persons on the photograph have been identified as Manitoba Mennonites: on the far left holding the sign is David Dueck, Winnipeg film producer; the man with glasses in the background is John P. Loewen, Blumenort EMC pastor; the tall man in the center is Winnipeg entrepreneur Art Defehr, the young woman and man to his left are Sarah Jane Schmidt and Rick Schmidt of Winnipeg; the man on the far right has been identified as Pastor Frances Tung of a Winnipeg Chinese church. We thank Art DeFehr, Harold Jantz, Arley Loewen, Alf Redekopp, and Rick Schmidt for their help in identifying the people in the photograph. Call Num: PC 18/5676/18-4823
