

---

Mennonites & Anthropology: Faith, Ethnography, and Global Entanglements

---

Hosted by the Chair in Mennonite Studies
&
Centre for Transnational Mennonite Studies

October 25-26, 2019

Convocation Hall, University of Winnipeg

This academic conference investigates the complex series of entanglements shared by Mennonites and anthropology. It builds upon the remarkable recent flourishing of scholarship in the anthropology of Christianity, which has provided new insights into the lived experience of diverse Christianities and offered a valuable stimulus to reconsider the ways in which Christianity is imagined, embodied, and enacting. Drawing on this burgeoning field, the anthropology of Mennonite Christianity promises new ways to examine what it means to be Mennonite.

Friday, October 25 (8:30 AM – 5:15 PM)

- Panel 1: Mennonite Anthropology
- Panel 2: Encounters
- Panel 3: Economics
- Panel 4: Dissension

Friday, October 25 (7:00 – 9:30 PM)

Keynote Address by Dr. James Urry:

“Mennonites, Anthropology and History: A Complicated Intellectual Relationship”

Saturday, October 26 (8:30 AM – 6:30 PM)

- Panel 5: Rituals
- Panel 6: Discipline
- Panel 7: Missions
- Panel 8: Archaeologies
- Panel 9: Bodies

For more information visit
www.mennonitestudies.uwinnipeg.ca/events